

CASE THROWN OUT.

County Court Would Not Hear Election Contest.

Hallettsville, Texas, June 10.—While the case of J. W. Cook vs. A. W. Turner for the office of treasurer of the city of Yoakum had been set for next Monday in order to save costs and the necessity for a great many witnesses coming here, if necessary, the attorneys came up from Yoakum and last night argued the preliminary pleas and motions before the court. The court sustained defendant's plea to the jurisdiction of the court and dismissed the case at plaintiff's cost.

The plaintiff contended that as it was a suit for an office, a thing of value, the emoluments being but $300 per annum, the suit had been properly brought in the county court. The defendant claimed that since amendment to the constitution in 1891 the jurisdiction was in the district court. It is today said there will be no appeal.

CATTLE.

Buyers and sellers have not yet come to an agreement as to the future of cattle prices, but certain facts that are undeniable indicate that values should be well sustained. There are, a shortage of threes and up, making a heavy demand on younger stuff that are lighter, requiring more of them to meet the demand of the market; a short call crop on many ranges, delaying the replenishment of herds unusually good supply of pasturage, because of diminished herds, enabling owners to hold at little cost; a big improvement in the quality of marketable cattle, and a probability now that there will be plenty of cheap feed, there having been for several seasons, more corn planted than was intended earlier in the season.—Stock and Farm Journal.

A Difference of Opinion.

In my opinion, nothing can surpass the beauty of the "bluegrass" belt of Kentucky. Still, there is a difference of opinion on the subject of scenery.

Once a man was traveling through Kentucky on a train, and being a great lover of nature, he was enjoying the beautiful mountain scenery through which they were passing, and, addressing a fellow passenger who was sitting near by, he said: "Excuse me, my friend, but behold this beautiful mountain scenery." The other man replied: "Scenery! Why you can't see the scenery for the rocks. Down in Texas, where I live, you can see for forty miles."—Adolph Boldt in Galveston News.

Raise Pigs.

Have you ever stopped to think that the demand for pig pork is the winning trump, that you hold? That the animal the market demands is "identically" the one you can produce the cheapest. Now don't let the idea "harpoon you" that you must make them big to get a certain amount of money, for as sure as you do, you will feed away a lot of corn and do head's of work at a doubtful profit. Grow the same number of pounds in larger numbers of pigs. Sell young, at lighter weight, and if properly handled, they will always make a profit.—Stock and Farm Journal.

Would not Suffer so Again for Fifty Times Its Price.

I awoke last night with severe pains in my stomach. I never felt so badly in all my life. When I came down to work this morning I felt so weak I could hardly work. I went to Miller & McCurdy's drug store and they recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It worked like magic and one dose fixed me all right. It certainly is the finest thing I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my home hereafter, for I should not care to endure the sufferings of last night again for fifty times its price.—G. H. Wilson, Liveryman, Burgettstown, Washington Co., Pa. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

BAGING AT LA GRANGE.

A Man Drowned—Rise of Twenty Feet and Still Booming.

LaGrange, Texas, June 8.—The Colorado river is rising rapidly. There has been a twenty-foot rise so far at 6 p. m. The ferry boat at Winchester came through here this afternoon. Several attempts to capture it were unsuccessful.

John Sraneky, a Bohemian 54 years of age, in an attempt with others to capture it seven miles up the river was drowned.

Bridge timber of the Smithville bridge also went down. The current is very swift and carrying a continuous mass of driftwood. The river is still rising.

CONTRACT LET.

An Oil Mill Soon To Grace The Industrial Section of the Town.

The contract for furnishing the machinery for the Gonzales Oil and Manufacturing Company plant was let this morning. Mr. A. F. Paimie, of Shiner, well known in this section of the state, was given the contract. The price for the machinery is something over $21,000. The plant is to be ready for operation by the first of October. The property just west of the Gonzales Gin Company has been selected as the site and as soon as the plans and specifications for the building are made work on them will be commenced. The buildings are to be completed by the first of August. The plant will cover nearly a block of property on the Gonzales Gin Company switch.—Gonzales Inquirer.

Last fall I sprained my left hip while handling some heavy boxes. The doctor I called on said at first it was a slight strain and would soon be well, but it grew worse and the doctor then said I had rheumatism. It continued to grow worse and I could hardly get around to work. I went to a drug store and the druggist recommended me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I tried it and one-half of a 50-cent bottle cured me entirely. I now recommend it to all my friends.—F. A. Babcock, Erie, Pa. It is for sale by all druggists.

The Hallettsville Herald is rising up the congressional situation has this to say:

Our people are determined to break the Galveston congressional ring, and there is already talk of casting about for suitable timber. Fly and Buegass, Keer and Lane, are being mentioned. Keer has a barrel and could make a hard fight, but he is a gold-bug and cannot hope to enlist the undivided support of the silver men. Fly is an able man and sound democrat but he lacks the means. Buegass is strong, and would put up an able fight. Lane would be hampered by past political differences, but he would make the race lively enough for the most ardent politician.

LIKES THE AMERICAN COMPANY'S PRESSE.

An Arkansas Firm Used it Last Season With Great Satisfaction.

A. J. Clements, of the firm of Clements & Daniel, cotton ginners of Lonoke, Ark., was in the city yesterday. Mr. Clements was seen by a Commercial Appeal representative in the office of the American Cotton Company, in the Continental building, and he talked very enthusiastically of that company's Roundlap bale press, which he has been operating at his gin the past season. He compressed about 4000 bales on his Roundlap bale press, and the cotton was all sold at the press at Memphis prices. Mr. Clements says that a Roundlap bale from the American Company's press will net from $2.50 to $3.00 more than from the old press. In fact, a farmer a few months ago, made a test of the matter, bringing the exact number of pounds of the same quality to Mr. Clements that he did to a square bale press, without letting either gin know he was making the test, and the Roundlap bale netted just $3.75 more than the square bale.

Mr. Clements says that one season has satisfied him of the merits of the American Cotton Company's Roundlap bale press. It is a good thing he says, both for the ginner and the farmer, and his firm will continue its use and abandon its other press entirely.—From the Commercial Appeal, Memphis, Tenn.
